

Tatjana Poplazarova GlaxoSmithKline Biologicals, Belgium

As Director of Scientific and Public Disclosure at GSK Biologicals, Tatjana leads an international team with representatives in Asia-Pacific, Europe, and the US. This multi-disciplinary team is involved in both regulatory submissions (writing of protocols, study reports, clinical study summaries) and disclosure activities (both web based disclosure and publications). Tatjana is one of the founders of the disclosure team at GSK Biologicals and has been spearheading both strategic and operational aspects related to disclosure of human subject research. Tatjana is also the Biologicals representative at the GSK decision-making body on disclosure activities.
